Charitable Contributions

Businesses and Individuals can make and deduct charitable contributions. Make an early contribution to your favorite charity! This contribution can include personal property such as clothes and furniture, but remember to keep receipts for future proof of your generosity. Utilizing your credit card can be advantageous here as well, as more charities are accepting credit card donations.

Special thanks to Dr. Bart A. Basi. Dr. Basi is an expert on closely-held companies, an attorney, a Certified Public Accountant and the Senior Advisor of the Center for Financial, Legal and Tax Planning Inc.
